

FILTER HOLDING FRAME

Filter Holding Frames are used in filter banks to house primary and/or secondary filters.

These frames are constructed from 1.2mm galvanised sheet steel with four die-punched holes on each side to allow for easy installation. Stainless steel is also available on special request.

The holding frames also come complete with two filter holding clips and gasketing.